

Introducing Fukushima Prefecture

Volunteer Translator Community

Give Your CV a Boost!

Get experience in Japanese to English translation

Build up relevant experience for future job-hunting

Show future employers you took the initiative to benefit your local community in your spare time

Help Fukushima Prefecture!

Make traveling in Fukushima easier for overseas tourists:

- Provide local shops, tourism offices, etc. with good-quality translations – checked by native speakers, not machines!
- Increase the volume of English signs, menus, timetables, etc.

Translate from home

Choose how many hours you can commit per week

Complete translations that match your language level

Celebrate your achievements with other volunteers at thank-you parties

We're Looking For...

Native English speakers who...

- Have Japanese proficiency equivalent to JLPT N3 or higher
- Are living or have lived in Fukushima Prefecture
- Can commit time to volunteering every month
- Passionate about helping local organisations in Fukushima

Recruiting Now for April 2019 Start!

Join a network of volunteer translators

Volunteering opportunities for a range of language abilities

2 Volunteer Positions

1. Volunteer Translators

Translate local businesses' pamphlets, menus etc.

2. Translation Editors (N2 Level or above)

Double-check translations before they're submitted

How it Works

- 1 Local business submits files to be translated
- 2 Log into homepage
- 3 Check inbox for new translation tasks
- 4 Choose a translation task
- 5 Upload & submit finished translation data
- 6 Native check
- 7 Finished translation sent back to customer

How to Apply

Register your interest via our Google Form.

Let us know your name, contact details, Japanese proficiency level & availability.

You'll be asked to translate a short paragraph into English.

We'll notify you via email once the project launches with details on how to sign up.

Google Form: <https://goo.gl/forms/rSS033jhYu9mQ73S2>